Adriatica Consulting is a Training and Consulting agency in Lanciano that was founded in 2001 to give rise to an ambitious project: to train professionals in the future. Reliability, Quality, Reliability and Innovation, have always been the factors that accompany the work of experienced professionals who work together with Adriatica Consulting to provide for people, businesses and professionals a wide range of services, which are necessary to compete in markets that are increasingly demanding. The primary goal is to guide clients along the road of innovation and sustainability, by analyzing the technological, economic, environmental and social, in order to improve the substance, and not only in form, competitiveness and visibility.
