BORN TO RUN

The Ethiopian runner, Haile Gebreselassie, the "Emperor", is probably the greatest athlete of all time. He has won two Olympic titles and has broken numerous records at 5,000 and 10,000 metres. A Sunday Times journalist went to interview him at his home in Addis Ababa.

Haile's routine has not changed since he became an athlete. Every morning he gets up at 5.45 and runs for two hours. He has a nap after lunch and then goes out running again.

Haile was brought up in a very poor family. Although today he's multimillionaire he has never been comfortable with being rich in a poor country.

In the future, when he retires from athletics, Haile is going to go into politics. He wants to do something to help the people in Ethiopia. He has travelled to many countries. He has experience and he wants to share it.

As we drive through the city in his ten-year-old Mercedes everybody recognizes him and shouts his name. A lorry carrying soldiers waits to let us pass. "Even the army are your fans", I say "No" replies Haile. "That was because there is a white man sitting in the front seat of the car with me".
